

impact investor

/ 'im-pakt/ /in,'vest,or/ :: noun

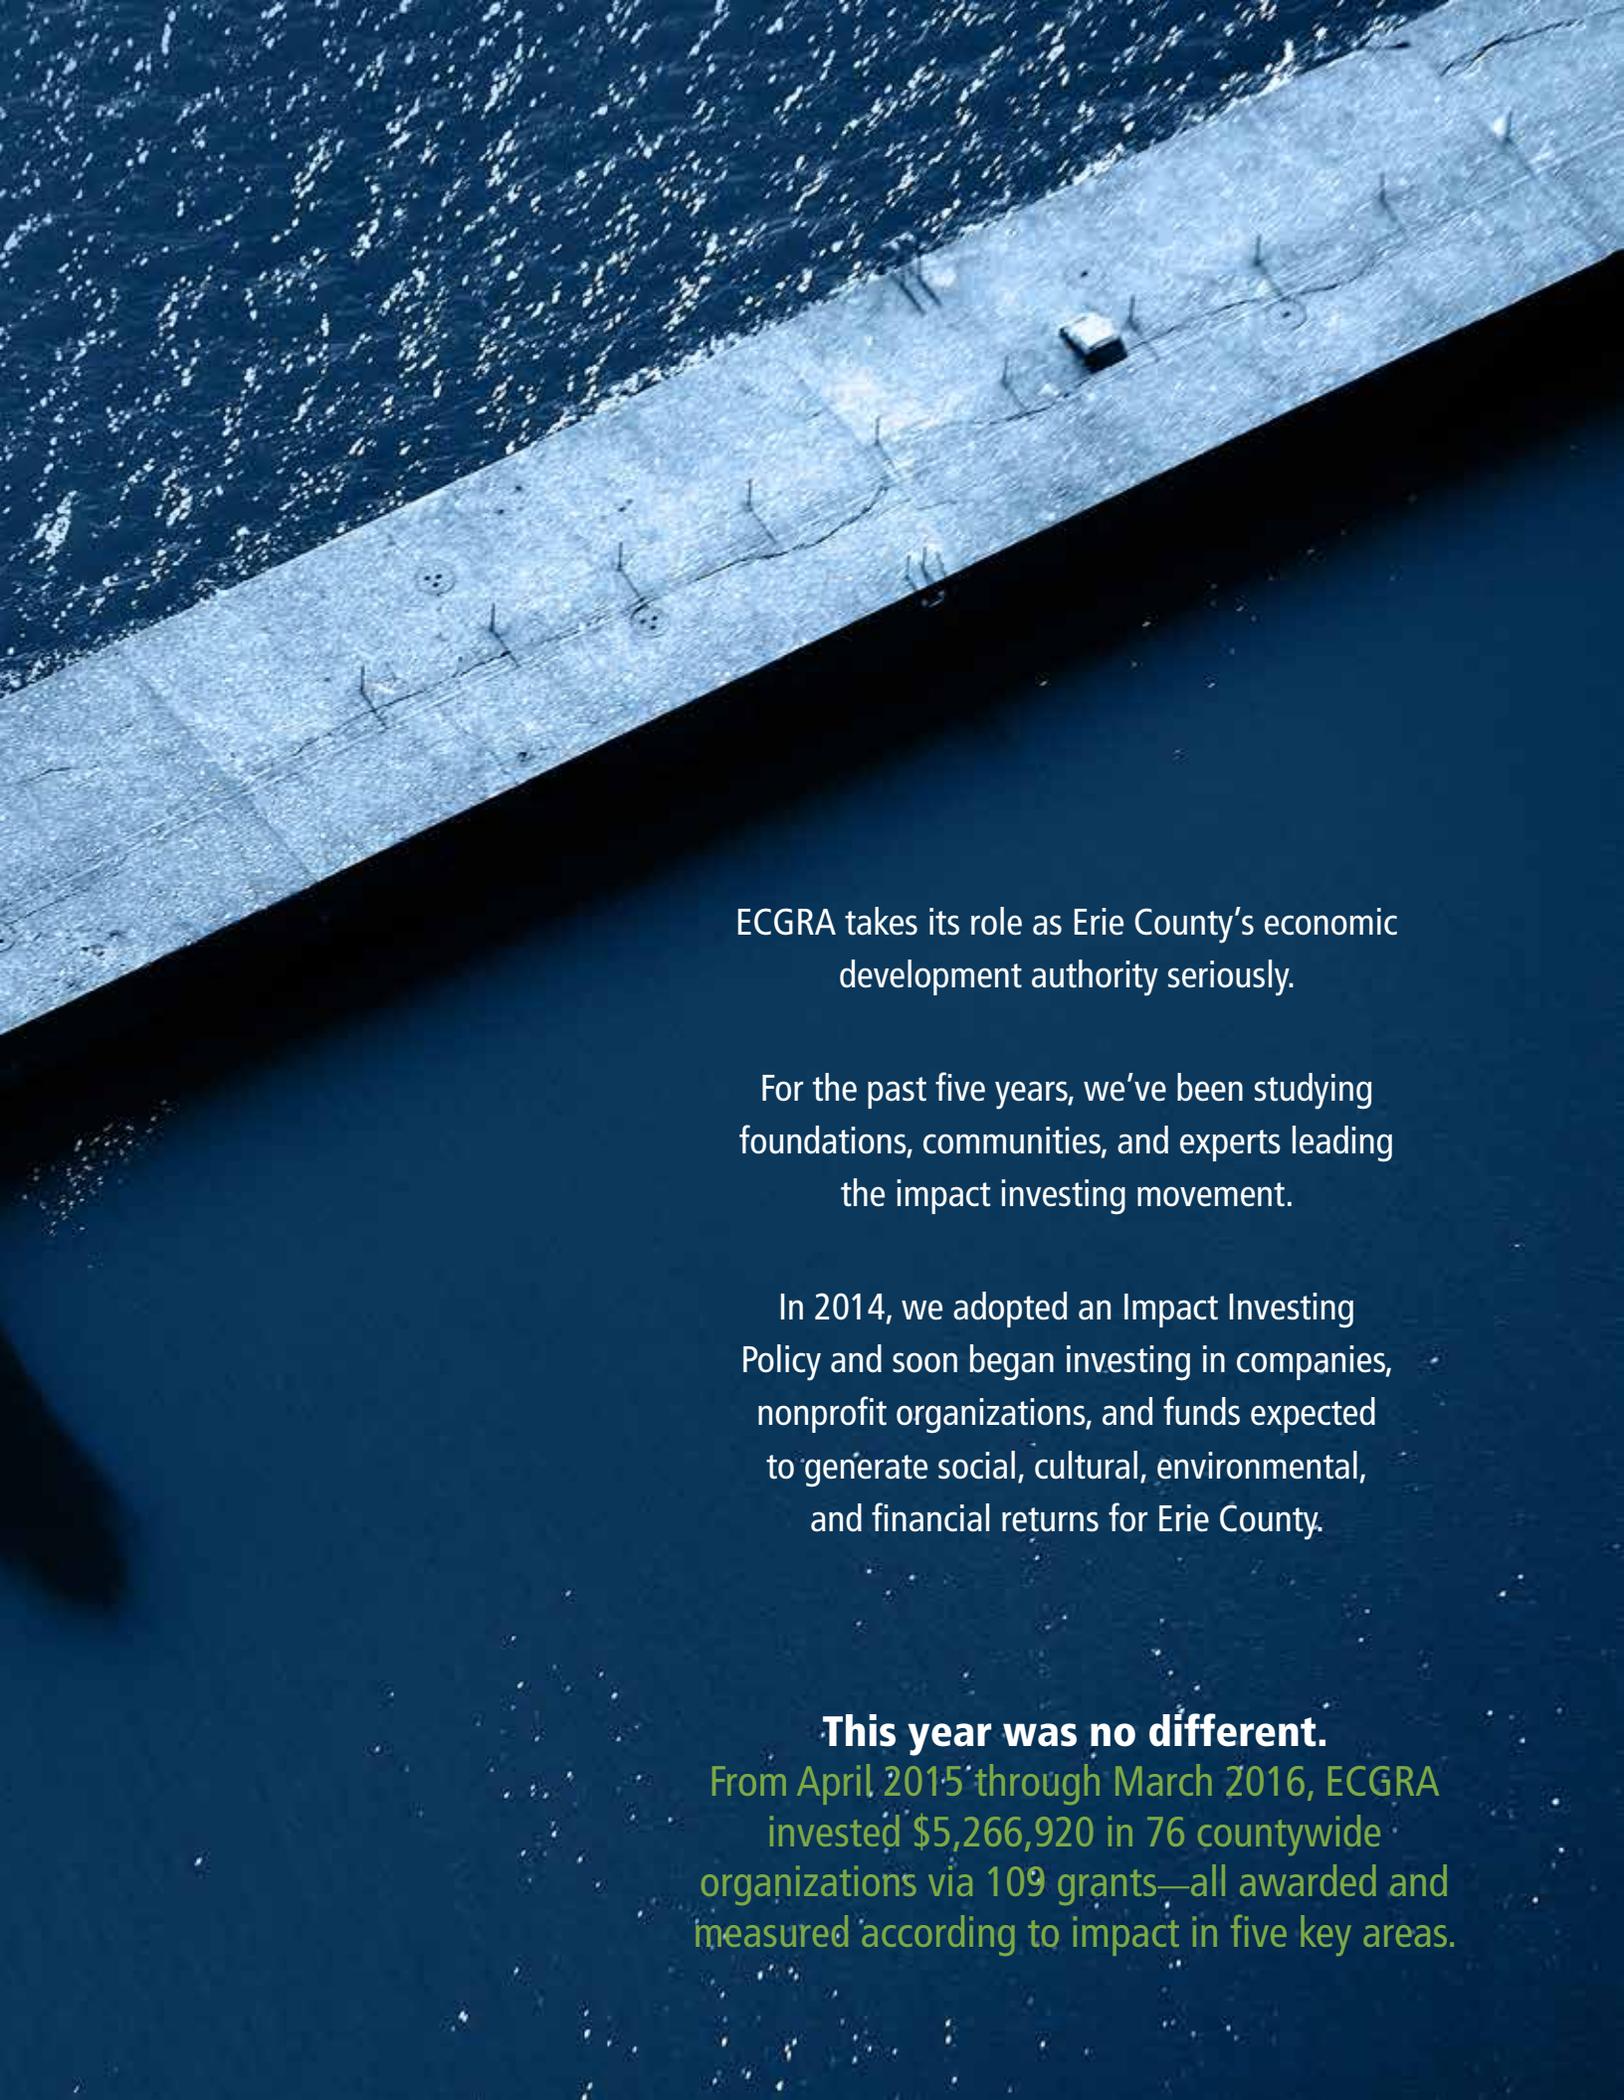

A person or institution investing into companies, organizations, and funds to generate measurable social and environmental benefits alongside financial returns.

MISSION STATEMENT:

An impact investor, ECGRA's mission is to elevate Erie County by galvanizing nonprofits toward economic and community development. Since February 2008, ECGRA has invested more than $38 million in Erie County thanks to the pioneering leadership of members of Erie County Council and the ECGRA board of directors and staff.

An aerial photograph of a lighthouse on a small, rocky island in the middle of a dark blue ocean. The lighthouse is white with a dark band around its middle and a dark top section. The island is surrounded by dark water with some white foam from waves. The overall scene is captured in a high-angle, slightly tilted perspective.

An aerial photograph of a concrete bridge deck over a body of water. The bridge deck is light gray and shows signs of wear, including several long, dark cracks running across its surface. The water below is a deep blue, with white foam from the bridge's edge visible. The perspective is from above, looking down at the bridge.

ECGRA takes its role as Erie County's economic development authority seriously.

For the past five years, we've been studying foundations, communities, and experts leading the impact investing movement.

In 2014, we adopted an Impact Investing Policy and soon began investing in companies, nonprofit organizations, and funds expected to generate social, cultural, environmental, and financial returns for Erie County.

This year was no different.

From April 2015 through March 2016, ECGRA invested $5,266,920 in 76 countywide organizations via 109 grants—all awarded and measured according to impact in five key areas.

LEAD ASSETS

$1,659,714 in the Erie County Lead Assets Endowment

In 2011, ECGRA named and made its initial investments in the Erie County Lead Assets—nine place-shaping culture-, heritage-, and recreation-based nonprofits: Erie Art Museum, Erie Arts & Culture, Erie Philharmonic, Erie Playhouse, Erie Zoological Society, expERIENCE Children's Museum, Flagship Niagara League, The Historical Society of Erie County, and Mercyhurst Institute for Arts & Culture.

In 2012, ECGRA committed to sustain those organizations in perpetuity by creating the Erie County Lead Assets Endowment held in trust at The Erie Community Foundation. This year, ECGRA invested $1,659,714 in the endowment, growing it to nearly $12 million.

$1,376,490 in 2015-16

IMPACT MUNICIPALITIES

To foster progress and functional cooperation among Erie County's 38 municipal governments.

Local Government Development

Since 2010, ECGRA has supported the six municipalities contiguous with Presque Isle Downs and Casino helping to alleviate a portion of the impact on human and safety resources and infrastructure. These local governments received $1,376,490 total from ECGRA in 2015-2016. The funds are used by municipal leaders for the continuing development and improvement of emergency services, health and public safety, human services, facilities, and infrastructure.

IMPACT YOUTH & EDUCATION

To educate Erie's young adult workforce, strengthen schools and employers, and abate poverty.

ECGRA and The Erie Community Foundation officials celebrate a $1 million collaboration for Youth and Education.

$166,667 to the Shaping Tomorrow collaborative

In an unprecedented partnership between ECGRA and The Erie Community Foundation—Erie County's two largest grantmakers—The Foundation's Shaping Tomorrow Grants doubled in 2015. ECGRA and The Foundation committed a total of $1 million to four 2- and 3-year projects that address education for youth and adults, healthcare for underserved neighborhoods, and character development for inner-city students.

- $400,000 to Erie's Public Schools for Tech After Hours, a workforce development program providing in-demand job training and placement to out-of-school youth and displaced adult workers;
- $250,000 to Gannon University for GO College, which prepares Strong Vincent and East high school students to enter a post-secondary institution or branch of the military;
- $200,000 to Primary Health Network to expand school and neighborhood health centers to two new facilities; and
- $150,000 to All About Character, Inc., a 37-week character-education curriculum taught in Erie city schools by Pennsylvania State Troopers and Erie City Police Officers.

$34,680 in matching funds to Erie County’s public school district foundations

Erie County’s 13 public school districts each have their own foundation—an autonomous, publicly supported nonprofit organization committed to helping schools afford initiatives not covered by local, state, and federal funding.

In 2014, ECGRA began convening public school district foundation leaders to build their organizational and fundraising capacity and later, committed to match funds raised through 2016 up to $5 per student per district. Four of the participating foundations met or exceeded their fundraising goals within 10 months and in December 2015, with ECGRA’s matching funds, more than $72,709 was put to work for Erie’s public schools.

$118,250 in Erie Summer Jobs and More

In 2015, ECGRA collaborated with The Erie Community Foundation and Erie County government for year two of Erie Summer Jobs and More. The program, directed to economically disadvantaged youth age 16-21, provided 138 participants with opportunities to develop soft skills, explore career and college opportunities, earn a paycheck, and foster meaningful relationships with mentors and colleagues at 44 local employers. According to surveys, Summer JAM participants also experienced a stronger sense of belonging and improved self-esteem.

$25,000 for the Eagle’s Nest pilot program

In August 2015, the Eagle’s Nest Leadership Corporation, in conjunction with UPMC Hamot, provided career and life skills training and hospital employment to 31 at-risk young adults. In early 2016, ECGRA invested $25,000 to grow the program and renovate a youth and technology center where incoming students will have access to learning, study, and recreational space equipped with state-of-the-art technology.

$1,275,000 in 2015-16

IMPACT SMALL BUSINESS

To catalyze our region's private sector and develop Erie's entrepreneurial ecosystem by spurring small business development, building collaborations for business acceleration, and offering a broader spectrum of financing products for starting, growing, and reinventing small business. ECGRA has been making small business investments since 2011 and in 2013, launched Ignite Erie™, a $6 million multi-faceted collaborative for business growth.

Penn State officials, community leaders, and Ignite Erie partners dedicate Innovation Commons.

$275,000 to Support Innovation and Business Growth

In 2015, ECGRA committed $750,000 over three years to the Ignite Erie Industry+University Business Acceleration Collaborative. The Collaborative is led by Penn State Behrend and Mercyhurst University and is comprised of leaders from the area's top schools and employers. In the past 12 months, the Collaborative has hired a project coordinator, developed a pipeline for entrepreneurs to access resources, raised $108,175 for local organizations by managing five Quickstarter crowd-funding campaigns, and brought together students and faculty from all four Erie County universities to jointly assist local businesses and entrepreneurs.

The Collaborative most recently launched the Innovation Beehive at Penn State Behrend's Innovation Commons lab where students and entrepreneurs can consult with business professionals—bankers, patent attorneys, marketing professionals, and other experts—at no initial cost. And late this spring, the group will finalize plans and launch a program to boost STEM education for Erie County high school students.

$1,275,000 in 2015-16

IMPACT SMALL BUSINESS

Ignite Erie™ as an economic development strategy was first conceptualized in November 2013 when ECGRA and 26 of Erie, Pa.'s leading innovation agencies co-hosted Ignite Erie: A Day of Innovation. In late 2014, ECGRA rolled out phase two of Ignite Erie: a three-part, multi-year $6,000,000 funding strategy that draws on outcomes from the one-day event and economic development best practices related to the role of small businesses, universities, and metropolitan regions in the growth of the economy.

Using a Bridgeway entrepreneur loan, Erin Green, owner of Verify Services, hired two additional employees in 2015.

$1,000,000 in Mission-related Investments

A national movement to rethink how governments, philanthropic institutions, and corporations make investments, mission-related investing (also called impact investing) is measured not only by financial returns, but also by social and/or environmental change. Bridgeway Capital, a 501c3 nonprofit organization and a certified Community Development Financial Institution, specializes in making investments that support low-income communities and the creation of living-wage jobs as a means to revitalize the regional economy.

In early 2016, ECGRA made a $1,000,000 mission-related investment into Bridgeway Capital Inc. The organization “matched” ECGRA’s $1,000,000 with a $5,000,000 commitment making $6,000,000 available to Erie County small businesses. Bridgeway will focus these funds into a wide variety of projects ranging from expanding manufacturers to helping corner stores increase community access to healthy foods.

$131,500 in 2015-16

IMPACT NEIGHBORHOODS & COMMUNITIES

To reinvigorate neighborhoods and main corridors, boost buy-local efforts, and combat blight.

Downtown Corry

Main streets are at the heart of many of our municipalities and sound the pulse of our community. ECGRA's Mission Main Street Grants, launched in 2013, revitalize Erie County main corridors—home to small businesses, special events, historic structures, and central parks—and ultimately drive job creation, boost population, and promote tourism. In 2015, ECGRA invested $131,500 to renew commercial corridors.
